

Employee Grievance and Complaint Policy

Company Name	TCS (Tera Company Service)
Document Title	Employee Grievance and Complaint Policy
Policy ID	TCS-HR-015
Version	2.0
Effective Date	01-Jan-2026
Last Updated	25-Jul-2026
Document Owner	Head of Human Resources
Department	Human Resources
Confidentiality	Internal Use Only

1. Purpose

This policy provides a fair and transparent process for employees to raise workplace grievances or complaints and have them addressed in a timely manner.

2. Scope

Applies to all TCS employees for grievances relating to their employment, working conditions, or interpersonal workplace issues.

3. Definitions

Grievance	Any genuine dissatisfaction or concern an employee has regarding workplace conditions, treatment, or company decisions affecting them.
ICC	Internal Complaints Committee, constituted under the POSH Act, 2013, to handle sexual harassment complaints.

4. What Constitutes a Grievance

A grievance may relate to, among other things: unfair treatment by a manager or colleague; disputes over performance ratings or compensation; workplace safety concerns; disagreement with application of a company policy; or interpersonal conflict affecting the work environment. Complaints of harassment or discrimination are handled with additional protections as described below.

5. Types of Complaints

TCS categorizes complaints into three types, each with a tailored handling process:

- General Workplace Grievances — policy disputes, unfair treatment, interpersonal conflict — handled by HR.
- Harassment / POSH Complaints — handled exclusively by the Internal Complaints Committee (ICC), per the Code of Conduct (TCS-HR-014).
- Ethics / Fraud / Compliance Complaints — financial fraud, conflict of interest, compliance violations — handled by the Ethics & Compliance team via the Ethics Helpline.

6. How to Submit a Complaint

Employees can submit a grievance through any of the following channels:

- 1 Raise a Grievance ticket via the employee portal (Grievance module).
- 2 Email the HR Helpdesk directly at hr.helpdesk@tcs-internal.com.
- 3 Speak directly with the HRBP or Reporting Manager, for informal resolution attempts.
- 4 For harassment complaints, contact the ICC directly at icc@tcs-internal.com or via the dedicated POSH complaint form on the portal.

Every formal complaint submitted through the portal receives an automatically generated case number for tracking.

7. HR Escalation Process

General grievances are first reviewed by the assigned HRBP, who attempts resolution within 5 working days. If unresolved or the employee is not satisfied, the case is escalated to the Head of HR, and subsequently to the Grievance Redressal Committee for cases requiring further review.

8. Anonymous Reporting

Employees may submit complaints anonymously through the Ethics Helpline (ethics.helpline@tcs-internal.com) for ethics/compliance matters, or the anonymous option on the Grievance module for general workplace concerns. Anonymous complaints are investigated to the fullest extent possible, though the inability to follow up directly with the complainant may limit the depth of investigation in some cases. Yes, you can submit a complaint anonymously for both general grievances and ethics-related concerns.

9. Investigation Process

Formal complaints are investigated by HR (or the ICC, for harassment complaints) through fact-finding, which may include interviews with the complainant, the respondent, and any witnesses, and review of relevant records. Both parties are given a fair opportunity to present their account. Investigation findings and recommended action are documented in a formal report.

10. Expected Timelines

General grievances: initial response within 3 working days, resolution target within 15 working days. Harassment complaints handled by the ICC: statutory timeline of 90 days from the date of complaint, per the POSH Act, with the inquiry itself targeted for completion within 90 days and a report submitted within 10 days thereafter.

11. Confidentiality

All grievance and complaint proceedings are handled with strict confidentiality. Details are shared only with individuals directly involved in investigating or resolving the matter, on a need-to-know basis, consistent with the confidentiality principles in the Code of Conduct (TCS-HR-014).

12. Protection Against Retaliation

TCS strictly prohibits retaliation of any kind — including demotion, unfair performance ratings, exclusion, or termination — against any employee who raises a grievance or complaint in good faith, participates as a witness, or supports another employee's complaint. Any reported retaliation is treated as a serious Code of Conduct violation and investigated with priority.

13. Appeal Process

If an employee is dissatisfied with the outcome of a grievance investigation, they may file a written appeal to the Head of HR within 10 working days of receiving the decision. Appeals for ICC decisions follow the statutory appeal process under the POSH Act, allowing appeal to a court or tribunal within 90 days of the ICC's recommendation.

14. Frequently Asked Questions

Q: How can I report a workplace issue?

A: Raise a Grievance ticket via the employee portal, email the HR Helpdesk, or speak with your HRBP or Reporting Manager. Harassment complaints should go directly to the Internal Complaints Committee (ICC).

Q: Can I submit a complaint anonymously?

A: Yes, anonymous reporting is available through the Ethics Helpline for compliance matters and through the anonymous option in the Grievance module for general workplace concerns.

Q: Will I face retaliation for filing a complaint?

A: No. TCS strictly prohibits retaliation against anyone who raises a complaint in good faith, and any retaliation reported is investigated as a serious policy violation.

Q: How long does a grievance take to resolve?

A: General grievances target resolution within 15 working days. Harassment complaints handled by the ICC follow the statutory 90-day timeline under the POSH Act.
